Special consideration is a process that allows learners who suffer from temporary illness, injury or indisposition either:

- at the time of an assessment
- before the due date for submission of a dissertation/project/work deadline

How to request a Special Consideration

Please consult the Assessment Policy prior to completion of the form:

<https://www.ncfe.org.uk/qualifications/centre-assessment-support/special-considerations/>

- The Special Consideration Application Form should be used by centres to apply for special consideration on behalf of each individual learner or assessment.
- Section 1 should be completed by the learner and section 2 by the Centre.
- The form should be submitted as soon as possible after the assessment and not later than seven working days after the assessment. If the request is for an extension to a deadline, this should be made as soon as possible, and before the deadline is reached if at all possible.

Supporting Notes

To demonstrate the achievement students are capable of for the units that are subject to special consideration (Ofqual General Conditions of Recognition August 2014).

All applications for special consideration can only be made on a case-by-case basis and thus separate applications must be made for each learner.

Special consideration may be given following a scheduled assessment to a learner:

- Who is present for the assessment but who may have been disadvantaged by temporary illness, injury or adverse circumstances which arose at or near the time of the assessment
- Where alternative assessment arrangements which were agreed in advance of the assessment prove inappropriate or inadequate
- Who misses part of the assessment due to circumstances outside their control.
- Who misses a deadline for an assessment/ project/dissertation/work deadline to due to extreme circumstances and requests an extension

A learner will NOT be eligible for special consideration if:

- No evidence is supplied by the centre that the learner has been affected at the time of the assessment by a particular condition
- Any part of the assessment is missed due to personal arrangements including holidays or unauthorised absence
- Preparation for the assessment is affected by difficulties during the course e.g. disturbances through building work, lack of proper facilities, changes in or shortages of staff or industrial disputes.

Centres should note that, where an assessment requires the learner to demonstrate practical competence, it may not be possible to apply special consideration. In addition, in some circumstances, it may be more appropriate to offer the learner an opportunity to take the assessment at a later date rather than apply special considerations.
